

Disclaimer for ACO Examinations Preparation

The College of Chiropractic Orthopaedic Specialists (Canada) (“CCOS(C)”), its directors or officers assumes no responsibility of liability for any errors or omissions in the content delivered by the Graduate Studies Program of the CCOS(C) (the “Program”).

The Undersigned candidate (the “Undersigned”) acknowledges the CCOS(C) does not control the content of, nor does it have a role in setting, the Academy of Chiropractic Orthopedics (ACO) Diplomate examinations. The Undersigned further acknowledges that the CCOS(C) is acting in an administrator capacity with regards to the Program and does not have direct oversight for the aspects of the Program delivered by any third-party organizations associated with the Program.

The Undersigned hereby acknowledges and accepts that the requirements to become a Fellow of the CCOS(C) includes passing the ACO examinations, but the completion of courses, materials, and placements presented as necessary for fulfilling the requirements to become a Fellow of CCOS(C), including but not limited to requirements of the Program, are not guaranteed to cover all content testable in the ACO examinations, nor are they guaranteed to cover content in the manner in which the ACO will examine for correctness of any testable knowledge. The Program is not designed as an examination preparation course, but instead operates as a clinical training program for Canadian chiropractic orthopaedic specialists. The CCOS(C) does not guarantee the completeness, accuracy, usefulness or timeliness the materials taught through the Program and does not provide any warranties with the Program, express or implied. It is understood and agreed that it is the sole and absolute responsibility of the Undersigned to ensure that they know the expectations and requirements of the ACO examinations.

The Undersigned further acknowledges and understands that to cover all materials potentially available for examination by the ACO will require self-directed study by the Undersigned. The Undersigned acknowledges and agrees they will not hold the CCOS(C) liable for the costs or consequences of any failure to pass the ACO examination, nor hold the CCOS(C) liable for any failure to have taught any content tested on the ACO examinations, or for any failure to have taught any content in the manner in which the ACO tests knowledge for correctness.

By signing below, I acknowledge that I have read and understand the above disclaimer and agree to abide by the statements therein.
